Conservation Notes #1, April 2016

North Dakotans love Outdoor Recreation!

Outdoor recreation in our State is one of our most valuable assets. Over one-half of our 700,000 residents and numerous non-residents participate in some form of outdoor recreation that is enhanced by abundant wildlife, prairie landscapes and clean water. This participation is one of the largest demographics in the State. But many of the resources and habitats that support these activities are being converted to other uses. Loss of these valuable resources will squander one of our greatest assets. Therefore, supporting abundant wildlife, prairies and clean water will ensure quality outdoor recreation for the future.
